

INEQUALITY

WHY IS THE GAP BETWEEN THE RICH AND THE REST OF US GETTING BIGGER?

MYTH

Myth: Instead of money trickling down from the very rich to the rest of us...

REALITY

Reality: ...It's sucked up by those at the very top.

PositiveMoney

Closing the Gap

Right now, the power to create money rests in the hands of the same banks that caused the financial crisis. Banks create 97% of all the money we use - including the numbers in your bank account - when they make loans.

This means that in the UK alone, together we pay the banks £192 million in interest every single day.

And because the debt is held mostly by the bottom 90% and wealth mostly by the top 10%, paying this interest transfers money from the bottom 90% of the population to the very top 10%. It sucks wealth and income from the rest of us up to the lucky few.

But there are ways to create money that don't depend on us all going into debt to the banks. That is what we are campaigning for.

Find out more at positivemoney.org

PositiveMoney 