DIRECTORS' RESPONSIBILITIES STATEMENT

The directors are responsible for preparing the annual report and the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and regulations.

Company law requires the directors to prepare financial statements for each financial year. Under that law, the directors have elected to prepare the financial statements in accordance with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice (United Kingdom Accounting Standards and applicable law). Under company law the directors must not approve the financial statements unless they are satisfied that they give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the company and of the surplus or deficit of the company for that period. In preparing these financial statements, the directors are required to:

- select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- make judgements and accounting estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the company will continue in business.

The directors are responsible for keeping adequate accounting records that are sufficient to show and explain the company’s transactions and disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the company and enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Companies Act 2006. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the company and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR’S REPORT

TO THE MEMBERS OF POSITIVE MONEY LTD

Opinion
We have audited the financial statements of Positive Money Ltd (the 'company') for the year ended 31 March 2020 which comprise the income and expenditure account, the balance sheet and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies. The financial reporting framework that has been applied in their preparation is applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards, including FRS 102 The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

In our opinion the financial statements:
- give a true and fair view of the state of the company’s affairs as at 31 March 2020 and of its surplus for the year then ended;
- have been properly prepared in accordance with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice; and
- have been prepared in accordance with the requirements of the Companies Act 2006.

Basis for opinion
We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (UK) (ISAs (UK)) and applicable law. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor’s responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the company in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in the UK, including the FRC’s Ethical Standard, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Conclusions relating to going concern
We have nothing to report in respect of the following matters in relation to which the ISAs (UK) require us to report to you where:
- the directors’ use of the going concern basis of accounting in the preparation of the financial statements is not appropriate; or
- the directors have not disclosed in the financial statements any identified material uncertainties that may cast significant doubt about the company’s ability to continue to adopt the going concern basis of accounting for a period of at least twelve months from the date when the financial statements are authorised for issue.

Other information
The directors are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the annual report, other than the financial statements and our auditor’s report thereon. Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and, except to the extent otherwise explicitly stated in our report, we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If we identify such material inconsistencies or apparent material misstatements, we are required to determine whether there is a material misstatement in the financial statements or a material misstatement of the other information. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact.

We have nothing to report in this regard.

Opinions on other matters prescribed by the Companies Act 2006
In our opinion, based on the work undertaken in the course of our audit:
- the information given in the directors’ report for the financial year for which the financial statements are prepared is consistent with the financial statements; and
- the directors’ report has been prepared in accordance with applicable legal requirements.
Matters on which we are required to report by exception
In the light of the knowledge and understanding of the company and its environment obtained in the course of the audit, we have not identified material misstatements in the directors' report.

We have nothing to report in respect of the following matters where the Companies Act 2006 requires us to report to you if, in our opinion:

- adequate accounting records have not been kept, or returns adequate for our audit have not been received from branches not visited by us; or
- the financial statements are not in agreement with the accounting records and returns; or
- certain disclosures of directors' remuneration specified by law are not made; or
- we have not received all the information and explanations we require for our audit; or
- the directors were not entitled to prepare the financial statements in accordance with the small companies regime and take advantage of the small companies' exemption in preparing the directors' report and take advantage of the small companies exemption from the requirement to prepare a strategic report.

Responsibilities of directors
As explained more fully in the directors' responsibilities statement, the directors are responsible for the preparation of the financial statements and for being satisfied that they give a true and fair view, and for such internal control as the directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the directors are responsible for assessing the company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the directors either intend to liquidate the company or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements
Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs (UK) will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

A further description of our responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements is located on the Financial Reporting Council's website at: http://www.frc.org.uk/auditorsresponsibilities. This description forms part of our auditor's report.

Use of our report

This report is made solely to the company's members, as a body, in accordance with Chapter 3 of Part 16 of the Companies Act 2006. Our audit work has been undertaken so that we might state to the company's members those matters we are required to state to them in an auditor's report and for no other purpose. To the fullest extent permitted by law, we do not accept or assume responsibility to anyone other than the company and the company’s members, as a body, for our audit work, for this report, or for the opinions we have formed.

POSITIVE MONEY LTD

1 Accounting policies

Company information
Positive Money Ltd is a private company limited by guarantee incorporated in England and Wales. The registered office is 307 Davina House, 137-149 Goswell Road, London, EC1V 7ET.

1.1 Accounting convention
These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with FRS 102 “The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland” (“FRS 102”) and the requirements of the Companies Act 2006 as applicable to companies subject to the small companies regime. The disclosure requirements of section 1A of FRS 102 have been applied other than where additional disclosure is required to show a true and fair view.

The financial statements are prepared in sterling, which is the functional currency of the company. Monetary amounts in these financial statements are rounded to the nearest £.

The financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention. The principal accounting policies adopted are set out below.

1.2 Going concern
The directors are required to prepare these financial statements on a concern basis, and to disclose any material uncertainty surrounding the company’s ability to continue as a going concern. The directors recognise that if current economic conditions persist, the company may become less able to secure further, future grant income to the present levels.

The directors have nonetheless prepared these financial statements on a going concern basis. The board has made its assessment of the company’s ability to continue as a going concern by having regard to the following key factors:

• The company continues to seek donations, and further, future grant funding as part of its normal business, and the directors continue to pay particular attention to actual and expected funding levels when monitoring the company’s budgets and cash flow forecasts.

• The amounts of reserves and secured future grant income are sufficient to maintain the company’s present level of activity for a period longer than 12 months from the date that these financial statements were approved.

1.3 Income
The majority of Positive Money’s income arises from grants and donations, which may be given without reservation or which may have been given to fund or partly fund particular projects or activities that Positive Money undertakes or intends to undertake.

Donations from any source are recognised as income on receipt when the donor places no restriction on the use of the funds, nor imposes any performance obligation on the company.

Where in addition, a donor has placed a restriction on how donated funds should be applied, any such funds that are unspent at the year-end are not available for general use by the company and in recognition of this are transferred from the income and expenditure account to a restricted funds reserves account. These amounts are transferred from the restricted funds reserves account (back) to the income and expenditure account, as a movement within reserves, in the period in which the donated funds are applied to the project or activity specified by the donor.
1 Accounting policies

Where a grant or donation that has been received imposes a specific, future, performance-related condition on the company, such that the company's entitlement to the income is conditional on it carrying out identifiable tasks or activities, income is recognised only to the extent that those tasks or activities have been completed. Accordingly, funds that have been received on such terms before the year-end are included in the balance sheet as deferred income to the extent that the underlying tasks or activities remain to be completed.

Positive Money may also receive fee income in return for providing services, that is, for carrying out commissioned pieces of work within its areas of expertise.

Income from the provision of services is recognised in proportion to the stage of completion of the project or service at the end of the reporting period (sometimes referred to as the percentage of completion method), provided that all of the following conditions are met:

a) the amount of revenue can be measured reliably;

b) it is at least probable that the fee will be received;

c) the stage of completion of the project or service at the end of the reporting period can be measured reliably; and

d) the costs incurred for the project or service and the costs to complete the project or service can be measured reliably.

Income from the provision of project-like services where the above conditions are not met, is recognised only to the extent of costs incurred that the company reasonably expects to recover until such time as the conditions are met, or otherwise the remainder of the income is recognised on the completion of the project. A provision is made for any foreseeable losses on committed or incomplete projects.

Fees receivable for services that are provided continuously are recognised as income evenly over the duration of the contract.

Positive Money also receives, or may receive, small amounts of income from the sale of publications and branded goods, and other activities that are ancillary to the company’s aims.

Income from such sales is recognised when the goods or services are provided.

Judgments and estimates applicable to income recognition:

The directors may have to apply judgment in determining whether the terms of a particular donation include a restriction or a performance-related obligation where the express terms of the donation or grant are not definitive.

The directors may have to make estimates relating to the likely costs and percentage completion of contracts for services that are incomplete at the year end.

However, no significant judgments or estimates relating to income recognition were made in preparing these financial statements.
1.4 Expenditure
Expenditure other than on capitalised tangible fixed assets is included in the financial statements as and when it is incurred. Amounts recognised as expenditure include VAT since the company is unable to recover VAT.

1.5 Tangible fixed assets
Tangible fixed assets comprise office furniture and office, IT and communications equipment.

Assets that cost less than £1,000 are treated as expenditure when received. Assets that cost £1,000 or more are initially included in the financial statements at cost (including VAT), and subsequently at cost less amounts written off as depreciation or on the impairment of the asset.

Depreciation is charged on a straight line basis so as to write off the cost of any capitalised asset, less its expected residual value, if any, over its expected useful life.

1.6 Cash at bank and in hand
Cash and cash equivalents are basic financial assets and include cash in hand, deposits held at call with banks, other short-term liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less, and bank overdrafts. Bank overdrafts are shown within borrowings in current liabilities.

1.7 Financial instruments
The company has elected to apply the provisions of Section 11 ‘Basic Financial Instruments’ and Section 12 ‘Other Financial Instruments Issues’ of FRS 102 to all of its financial instruments.

Financial instruments are recognised in the company’s balance sheet when the company becomes party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

Financial assets and liabilities are offset, with the net amounts presented in the financial statements, when there is a legally enforceable right to set off the recognised amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis or to realise the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

Basic financial assets
Basic financial assets, which include debtors and cash and bank balances, are initially measured at transaction price including transaction costs and are subsequently carried at amortised cost using the effective interest method unless the arrangement constitutes a financing transaction, where the transaction is measured at the present value of the future receipts discounted at a market rate of interest. Financial assets classified as receivable within one year are not amortised.

Classification of financial liabilities
Financial liabilities and equity instruments are classified according to the substance of the contractual arrangements entered into. An equity instrument is any contract that evidences a residual interest in the assets of the company after deducting all of its liabilities.
1 Accounting policies

Basic financial liabilities
Basic financial liabilities, including creditors and bank loans are initially recognised at transaction price unless the arrangement constitutes a financing transaction, where the debt instrument is measured at the present value of the future payments discounted at a market rate of interest. Financial liabilities classified as payable within one year are not amortised.

Trade creditors are obligations to pay for goods or services that have been acquired in the ordinary course of business from suppliers. Amounts payable are classified as current liabilities if payment is due within one year or less. If not, they are presented as non-current liabilities. Trade creditors are recognised initially at transaction price.

1.8 Taxation
The company has been advised by HMRC that it is currently dormant for corporation tax purposes, it being a company not carrying on a business for the purposes of making a profit.

1.9 Employee benefits
The costs of short-term employee benefits are recognised as a liability and an expense, unless those costs are required to be recognised as part of the cost of stock or fixed assets.

The cost of any unused holiday entitlement is recognised in the period in which the employee’s services are received.

Termination benefits are recognised immediately as an expense when the company is demonstrably committed to terminate the employment of an employee or to provide termination benefits.

1.10 Retirement benefits
Payments to defined contribution retirement benefit schemes are charged as an expense as they fall due.

1.11 Leases
Rentals payable under operating leases, including any lease incentives received, are charged to profit or loss on a straight line basis over the term of the relevant lease except where another more systematic basis is more representative of the time pattern in which economic benefits from the leases asset are consumed.

1.12 Foreign exchange
Transactions in currencies other than pounds sterling are recorded at the rates of exchange prevailing at the dates of the transactions. At each reporting end date, monetary assets and liabilities that are denominated in foreign currencies are retranslated at the rates prevailing on the reporting end date. Gains and losses arising on translation are included in the profit and loss account for the period.

Restricted reserve detail

Partners for a New Economy: £549,500 between January 2019 - December 2021 for our project ‘Towards a money and banking system hardwired for sustainability and tackling climate change’ funding many of Positive Money’s research, supporter network, influencing and international activities. As at 31 March 2020 £366,050 of this grant had been received in aggregate. The remaining £183,450 will be received in one payment in January 2021.

Friends Provident Charitable Foundation: £250,000 between January 2018 and December 2022 for our project ‘The potential for money to be created for the common good’, funding a range of key staff roles and the dissemination of research and analysis. As at 31 March 2020 £125,000 of this grant had been received in aggregate. The remaining £125,000 will be received at the rate of £25,000 every six months beginning July 2020 with a final payment in July 2022.

Barrow Cadbury Trust: £60,000 between August 2018 - December 2020 for our project ‘Economic justice in banking and payments’, a project aiming to maintain a strong civil society voice in the debate around the decline of cash, the rise of digital currencies and the relaxing of certain financial regulations within the context of Brexit. As at 31 March 2020 £59,950 of this grant had been received in aggregate. The remaining £500 will be received in December 2020.

The company's related parties are the directors and a Belgian ABSL (non-profit association), Positive Money Europe. Positive Money Europe (PM Eu) has similar objectives to the company, save that its focus is the European monetary system.

The company first received funding to carry out projects relating to the European monetary system in 2015, and initially used its own resources to deliver on these and subsequent projects. The company founded PM Eu so that the company's vision of monetary and banking reform could be pursued more effectively and at a larger scale within the European Union, and to allow it to continue after 'Brexit'.

Positive Money Europe was founded on 17 December 2018, and it was registered on 18 January 2019. The company continues to control PM Eu by the action of PM Eu's constitution, which requires that all members of PM Eu are existing members of Positive Money, and by the fact that since incorporation all or the majority of the PM Eu board members are Positive Money's nominees. The company intends that further PM Eu board members shall be drawn from a broader pool of candidates, and in future shall not be limited to Positive Money nominees, to support PM Eu's continued growth and greater autonomy.

Positive Money and PM Eu signed a "Memorandum of Understanding" on 15th September 2020 by which the parties agreed in particular that in pursuing their objectives they shall at all times endeavour to do so in a manner consistent with the best interests of the other, and in pursuit of a shared vision.

In the year ended 31 March 2020 funding of £50,525 (2019 £8,666) was remitted to PM Eu. PM Eu has since incorporation secured much more funding in its own right. The company continues to remit funds to PM Eu drawn from restricted grants given (in part) to the company for PM Eu activities. These funds from the company are expected to represent 13% of PM Eu's total income in its current financial year.

The company has been providing operational and advisory support services to PM Eu since the latter's incorporation. The company received £4,863 from PM Eu towards the cost of providing the administrative services in the year ended 31 March 2020, and will receive a further £8,876 from PM Eu in the current financial year. PM Eu is now able to employ its own operational staff.
